

Barnes, J. (1904) The Unpardonable War

James Barnes (1904) The Unpardonable War,
London & New York, MacMillan

A British - USA conflict.

A war between England and America is the impossible idea of novel by an American Writer, James Barnes, which Messrs. Macmillan are about to publish. He calls it "The Unpardonable War." which is just what such a conflict would be. Even in this story the thing not supposed to happen until The century is considerably older. It comes about in a delightfully simple way, for the editor of an American paper has nothing more to do than stir up popular feeling against us. Sea fights and new explosives crack through Mr. Barnes' pages once he has the war fairly going. [New Zealand Herald, 21 January 1905]

Full Text at: <https://archive.org/details/cu31924022244978>

THE UNPARDONABLE WAR

BY

JAMES BARNES

AUTHOR OF "YANKEE SHIPS AND YANKEE SAILORS,"
"DRAKE AND HIS YEOMEN," ETC.

New York

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY

LONDON: MACMILLAN & CO., LTD.

1904

All rights reserved

“The Arizona was gliding toward the shattered, massive wreck.”

Other posts of possible interest:

Hayward, A. \(1871\) The Second Armada. A Chapter of Future History.