

Fawcett, E. D. (1893) Hartmann The Anarchist

E. Douglas Fawcett (1893) Hartmann The Anarchist, London, Edward Arnold. Illustrated by F.T. Jane.

The plot centers around Mr Stanley, a young moneyed gentleman who aims to stand for election as part of the Labour party in the early 20th century. Through his associations with many of London's most prominent socialists and anarchists, he encounters and befriends Rudolph Hartmann and 'goes along' with Hartmann's plan to attack London using his airship The Attila. [Wikipedia]

Hartmann the Anarchist, originally published in 1892, was written by Edward Douglas Fawcett when he was 17 years old. After being out of print for 100 years, it was republished in 2010. Rudolph Hartmann is an anarchist who is presumed dead after a botched attack on the Westminster Bridge. In this book, the plot centers around Mr. Stanley, a local socialist politician who, through associations with many of London's most prominent socialists and anarchists, learns that Hartmann is still alive and ends up riding with Hartmann's crew on the Attila as they plan to attack civilization. [Airships, Anarchists & Anachronisms]

HARTMANN THE ANARCHIST;

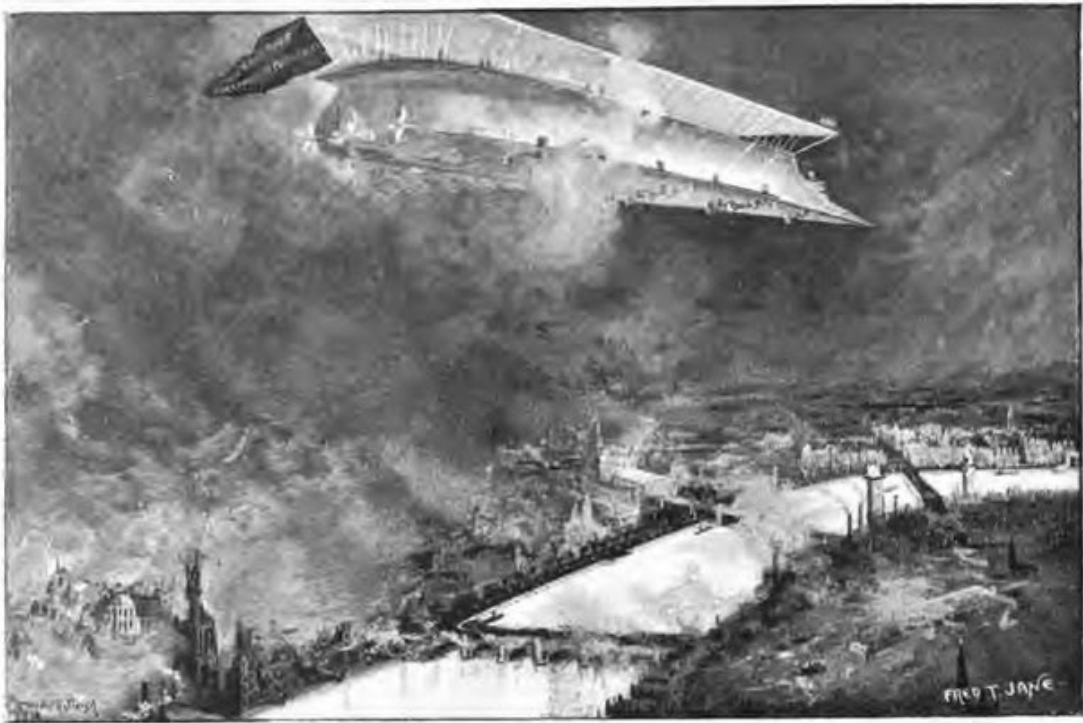

OR,
THE DOOM OF THE GREAT CITY.

BY
E. DOUGLAS FAWCETT.

ILLUSTRATED BY FRED. T. JANE.

LONDON
EDWARD ARNOLD
37 BEDFORD STREET, STRAND, W.C.
Publishers to the Public Office
1893
LAW right reserved

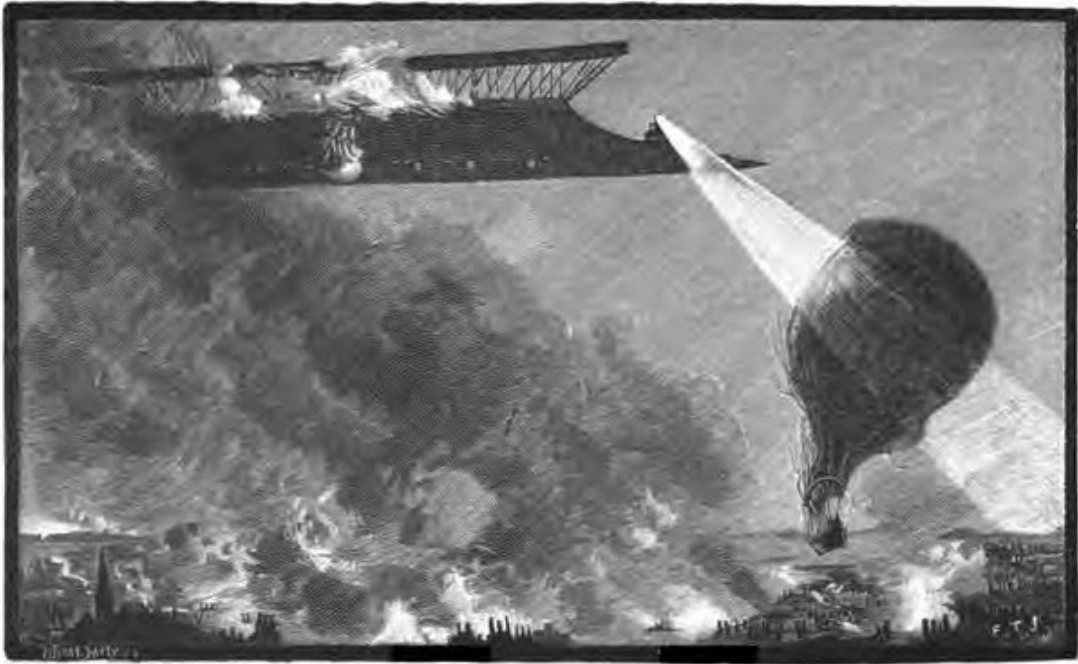

Full text at: <https://archive.org/details/hartmannanarchi00fawcgoog>

"THUS RETURNS HARTMANN THE ANARCHIST."

POURING DOWN LIQUID FIRE.

THE BALLOON NEVER HAD A CHANCE.

THE 'ATTILA' ROSE MAJESTICALLY.

A FLASH THAT BEGGARED THE LEVIN BOLT.

SHELLING THE HOUSES OF PARLIAMENT.

See page 147.

Other posts of possible interest:

Griffith, G. \(1893\) The Angel of the Revolution

Griffith, G. \(1894\) Olga Romanoff / The Syren of the Skies

Verne, J. \(1886\) Robur the Conqueror

Verne, J. \(1904\) Master of the World